J. H. McMillan of Ogden who attended the recent sitting of the District Court, returned home on Sunday.

H. A. Cohen, Superintendent of the De Lamar Co., returned from Salt Lake Sunday and went through to the mines.

D. A. Reeves and A. W. Ellis left for Salt Lake last Sunday both expecting to be absent some considerable length of time.

New buildings continue to go up at Reeves and it is generally believed it will prove the main town of Ferguson District.

Mrs. Roeder and family returned from Pahranagat Valley yesterday where they have been spending several weeks on the ranch.

Sunday was a gala day at Highland, a picnic occurring. Every team in town was brought into requisition and a general good time was had.

The recent ore development in the Yuba continues to improve and a good shipment of first grade ore is looked for before the pocket is exhausted.

Frank Godbe and family who have been with us for the past week attending court and visiting relatives and friends, returned to Salt Lake yesterday.

The telephone posts between Pioche and Ferguson District are now all in place and only wait completion which will be effected as soon as the wire arrives.

When the hair begins to fall out or turn gray, the scalp needs doctoring, and we know of no better specific than Hall's Vegetable Sulfur Hair Renewer.

The Pioche Con. Co. having ceased all operations here will maintain only a watchman in charge of its properties after this month. John R. Cook will retained for the place.

Line repairers of the Deseret Telegraph Co. have put the line between this place and St. George in first class shape and breaks ought to be few and far between now for some time to come.

The old sewer shaft on Meadow Valley street opposite the site of the old Hanley Hall should be filled before somebody suffers injury from it. A few loads of gravel will do the work all right.

The last of the Jim Crow ore was put through the Condon mill last night and the next few days will be occupied in making a thorough clean-up. Arrangements are being made to work over the tailing pit.

Invitations are out for the wedding of H. H. Cooper and Miss Florence DeFries, to take place at the residence of Wm. DeFries on Meadow Valley street next Tuesday evening.

John C. Lynch, in from Desert Springs last Monday, says cattle are dying rapidly in that section from starvation. This is the driest season which has been experienced for years and the feed on the hills and on the desert has all along been insufficient.

The nip of a poisonous snake is but a slight remove from being more dangerous than the poison of Scorpions in the blood. Ayer's Sarsaparilla purifies the vital fluid, expels all poisonous substances, and supplies the elements of life, health and strength.

A fire occurred at the Condon mill last week which but for its speedy extinguishment, might have resulted in the total destruction of the property. While blowing out the boiler tubes some sparks from the grates communicated with the roof and if it had not been accidentally observed in time it would most likely resulted in a general conflagration as the wind was blowing strong at the time.

Cold weather for this season of the year.

There will be almost no hay in the foothills or valley ranges of California this year, and Nevada hay will be in great demand.

Boils, abscesses, tumors and even cancers, are the result of a natural effort of the system to expel the poisons which the liver and kidneys have failed to remove. Ayer's Sarsaparilla stimulates all the organs to a proper performance of their functions.

J. Eisenmann wishes to call the attention of those desiring to build, to the fact that he has just received a carload of glazed window sash, all sizes; also panel, sash and screen doors, together with white lead, paints, oils and nails, which will be sold cheaper than ever, but only for cash.

DISTRICT COURT.

The sitting of the District Court terminated sooner than expected and Judge Cheney was enabled to leave for Reno on Sunday.

Friday June 1st.—On the opening of court Judge Cheney proceeded to render his decision in the case of Charles Crow vs. Frank Wilson. It was in favor of Wilson and reviewed the facts and the law applicable thereto in a most able manner. No point was left untouched and many expressions of commendation were made with regard to it by those who heard it read. It is now in the hands of the reporter and we will endeavor to publish it in full next week.

The case of C. P. Runnow vs. Joseph Delmus was then called up. This case involved the right to the water flowing down Canyon Canyon, with the exception of four acres acknowledged to belong to defendants at Round Valley above. The testimony was in by four o'clock, when the court entered a temporary order restraining defendants from using any of the water except sufficient to water four acres economically, and will render a final decision later on.

Saturday June 2nd.—The case of J. Nesbitt & Bro. vs. The Pioche Consolidated Mg. & Rdn. Co., was brought on. This action was for $4,938.00 claimed to be due on an account made with J. A. Denton connected with the burning of charcoal three years ago. After testimony by plaintiffs, defendants moved for a nonsuit on the ground that it was an alleged promise on the part of the company to answer for the debt of another and should have been in writing. After argument the motion was allowed and judgment entered for defendant for its costs.

The case between the Pioche Con. Co. and the Culverwell Brothers, was dismissed having been settled between the parties.

In the matter of the estate of August Werner deceased, T. J. Osborne was appointed administrator, with bond fixed at $250.

A. H. Phelps was appointed guardian of the person and estate of W. A. Phelps, an insane person. The parties live in the southern part of the county in the vicinity of Keystone.

In the matter of the estate of James McFadden deceased, Henry Rives Esq. was substituted as attorney for the estate in place of George S. Sawyer, withdrawn, and an intermediate account was allowed by the court.

Mrs. Julia McFadden was appointed as guardian of the persons and estates of Clarence and Frederick McFadden, minors, and bond fixed at $300.

Silver Party Committee Meeting.

At the late meeting of the Silver Party State Central Committee at Reno, it was decided to hold the State Convention on Tuesday, September 4th, and the primaries for the election of delegates to said convention on August 15th.

The basis of representation in the State Convention was fixed as follows: One delegate for each county, and one delegate for each and every forty votes or fraction thereof cast for the Weaver and Field presidential electors in 1892.

On this basis the representation will be as follows: Churchill, 5 delegates; Douglas, 5; Elko, 24; Esmeralda, 11; Eureka, 19; Humboldt, 19; Lander, 12; Lincoln, 12; Lyon, 12; Nye, 7; Ormsby, 12; Storey, 31; Washoe, 22; White Pine, 10; Total 201.

TEST.

Resolved that the following test be used at the primary elections: "I am in favor of the free coinage of gold and silver at the ratio of 16 to 1 by the United States of America, and will support the nominees of the Silver Party."

Since the campaign is to be fought by the Silver Party under the same title as two years ago, let the People's Party of Lincoln County join the Silver Party in name as well as in action, since Lincoln is the only county in the State in which a People's party affected an organization. The object of both is the same, and so far as this state is concerned, both should fight under the same title.

From St. Thomas.

George Whitney of Panaca has the Bonelli place reseeded here and has a good crop in and the place looks well.

The Colorado is higher now than it has been at a corresponding season for years, while the Virgin is lower than for many years past.

Wandering stock in the valley have caused much annoyance and great loss during the past winter. The only way to surely prevent encroachments is to fence up, and this most of our farmers are doing.

School trustees were regularly elected here on the day prescribed by law. Ed. Syphus for the long term and Harry Gentry and John Abbott for the short term. The election appears to have been overlooked in most of the school districts.

The almond nut crop promises to be great here this year. Woolly, Lund & Judd of St. George, have 40,500 trees on their place, a great many of which will be in bearing this year. This will be one of the leading industries of this valley as soon as transportation facilities are afforded.

The alfalfa and grain crops have already been cut in this valley. The best yield in oats came from the Thompson-Osborne farm, where ninety-four bushels to the acre were cut. This is very good indeed but there is plenty of other land, which with ordinary care would yield as well. The place is leased by J. O. Huntsman and sons. Preparations to fence it are being made.

EDITOR RECORD:

The question has frequently been asked who is the present county physician. This query no doubt arose from the fact that some time ago the papers announced that the Board of County Commissioners had decided to open bids for the county physician, with the understanding of course, all things being equal, that the lowest bidder should get away with the plum. It is not definitely known why the County Commissioners took this step, but it was rumored that it was principally with the view of practicing economy and to reduce the expenses of the already over-burdened county to a minimum. Whether there were any other factors which hastened the decision of the Board to open this bid for applicants is a matter of surmise. At all events the applicants were fully aware of the importance of being low bidders, how low need not here be stated. After a due comparison of bids and a full consideration of the matter it was solemnly announced that a bond was required not less than five hundred dollars. Now the question could be appropriately asked, why these bonds? especially in view of the fact that in the past no bond had been called for. It may be stated that this is required by the laws of the State and must be enforced, but it can nevertheless be denied that the past omission of the Board as against its present strict punctuality in enforcing the same, is to say the least peculiar. The Commissioners are, however, to be congratulated upon their strict business principles, which lately seem entirely to govern their business transactions in behalf of this county. Looking at this matter still more closely, the decision of the Board becomes still more unjust when it is remembered that the county physician's salary as compared to considerations received for the same services in other states, is almost nil and that there usually no bonds are required.

The morale of the whole matter is this that within the sacred domain of public functionaries there is occasionally found some things, which while not absolutely offensive to the public eye, are allowed to pass by without reproach, although not perhaps in strict conformity with justice and equity. This little county matter and bond business come under this category and are of comparatively small importance, is mentioned here only as illustrative of certain inconsistencies which sometimes creep in and are whispered around as not exactly as it ought to be or as it might be.

JUSTICE.

Ore Stealing.

A letter from the southern part of the county two days ago states that all the miners at the Keystone mine are under arrest for stealing ore. It is stated that for some time past the company suspected that small quantities of the richest ore were being systematically got away with. A detective was employed and put to work with those in the mine engaged in the stealing. The day shift would steal the ore and cache it, and the night shift would secrete it under a mesquite bush. This work had been going on for some time, two wagon loads being shipped and preparations were under way for a third shipment when the matter was brought to light. An effort was made to place all the miners under arrest but three succeeded in escaping.

This refers to the same theft which Sheriff Turner received telegrams about, some four weeks ago.

When the question of removal of the capital arises again, the Coxeyites will all vote for Denver. They have been able to reach it more successfully by far than they were able to reach Washington. Moreover they have not been warned off the ground.—Denver News.

"I don't mind a man lying a little when he gets to bragging about his young ones," said Watts, "that sort of thing is but natural. But when Pemberton has the impudence to tell me that his youngest son is so bright that the rest of the family have to wear smoked glasses in the house, I think he is carrying the thing a little too far."—Indianapolis Journal.

Mrs. Palmer, the wife of H. N. Palmer, a well-known Pacific Coast mining man, committed suicide at Prescott, Arizona, recently by drinking a cupful of carbolic acid during a fit of despondency and mental aberration. About two and a half years ago she accidentally shot and killed her ten-year-old son, since which time she has been despondent at times, which has been aggravated by sickness.

The portly, well-dressed gentleman, whose specialty was chattel mortgages, arose to address the meeting of the unemployed he said: The chief cause of distress in this prosperous land is lack of frugality and thrift. You talk of the wolf at the door. He never comes to my door. "I guess he's afraid of getting skinned," shouted some irreverent person in the audience, and the portly gentleman sat down.—Ex.

OUR WASHINGTON LETTER.

Correspondence of THE RECORD.

WASHINGTON, May 30, 1894.

Does the sticky trail of the sugar scandal lead to the White House? Statements made by Democrats, mind you, not Republicans, first indicated that it did, and the action of the investigating committee, in pretending to be greatly exercised because three newspaper correspondents, one of them a Democrat and Senator Murphy's private secretary, have declined to give the names of those who gave them information, has not weakened the indications. The committee may be perfectly honest in its attempt to make the correspondents tell the names of their informants, but experience should warn them of the time they are wasting. There is probably not a newspaper correspondent in Washington who would not go to jail and stay there rather than to tell the name of any man who had given him information in confidence, and nobody knows this any better than the Senators on this committee; hence the belief that they are merely using the correspondents in making a play for time, instead of asking the men whose names have been directly connected with the scandal for the information that will establish the truth or falsity of the charge that the sugar trust dictated the sugar schedule of the tariff bill. The present actions of the committee confirm the impression of those who predicted from the first that the whole investigation would be as great a fizzle as that part of it which dealt with the alleged attempt to bribe Senators.

Several votes in the Senate having demonstrated that the last bargain took in all of the Democrats, except Hill, as well as the Populists, and that the tariff bill as bargained for is going to get their votes, it is probable although not yet certain, that the Republicans will in a few days agree to the setting of a day for the final vote on the bill. The sugar schedule will be reached this week and an effort will be made to upset it, but for the reasons set forth above it will hardly succeed.

Civil Service Commissioner Roosevelt has got his fighting blood up. During the debate which preceded the Democratic attempt to drop the appropriation for the Civil Service Commission, Representatives Pendleton, of W. Va., Enloe, of Tenn., and Stockdale and Williams, of Miss., made statements reflecting upon the integrity of the commission, and accusing it of always favoring Republicans. Mr. Roosevelt sent a communication to Representative De Forest, chairman of the House Committee on reform in the Civil Service, branding each and every statement made by the four Representatives as unqualifiedly false, and daring them to attempt to prove them in an investigation, which he suggests be made. There is no likelihood of an investigation, as it is well understood that the statements were made largely to placate disappointed constituents who had not been provided for and who might be disposed to make trouble in nominating conventions.

Gold, like everything else, is afraid of this administration. At least, it gets away from it quite fast. Notwithstanding the $50,000,000, in gold received from the late bond issue, the gold in the Treasury is to-day below $80,000,000, and according to the opinion of many of the shrewdest observers in Congress, including friends as well as enemies of the administration, another bond issue is only a question of time, and if there is not a decided let up in the drain on the Treasury it will be a very short time. All the prophecies of Mr. Cleveland and Secretary Carlisle concerning the return of gold from Europe have proven false. Should the tariff bill become a law by the first of July, which the Democrats claim, but the Republicans do not concede, there will be an immediate and immense drain on the remaining gold in the Treasury, as the importers will want it to send to Europe to pay for the goods which European manufacturers have been piling up to flood the American market with as soon as the Democratic tariff goes into effect. Secretary Carlisle is doing absolutely nothing to protect the gold in the Treasury, although his experience in placing the last bonds ought to have warned him of the difficulty he may have in floating another issue of bonds at the same rate. A Democratic Senator was heard to express the opinion that the administration could not place another issue of bonds for less than four per cent and that he would not be surprised if they had to make it five per cent. It was never more apparent than now that Secretary Carlisle is not a financier.

If there were no such thing as treaty obligations the bill fathered by Representative Bryan of Nebraska, providing for the issuing of $70,000,000 of greenbacks, to be used by the Government in purchasing a controlling interest in the Nicaragua Canal and in building the same, now before the House Commerce committee, might be more seriously considered than it is.

The long deferred fight over the repeal of the State bank currency tax has begun in the House.
